MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mailing list is run on Friday for following week.

There is seldom a single day goes by that the U.S. Government does not burn up the tax payer's money. It is the fact that there are piles & piles of food and grain and other staple commodities in storage and the bills pile up into the millions & millions of dollars just to keep it out of the weather. It seems like we mean to try to be able to move that into channels where it will save some money and also do some good.

Now, I, and Belushi Ag Secretary, Block may have the loophole needed to thanks to Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas. However, we must make haste to mold the idea into match to match several of the progress to make a quick move. Dole figure in bill he recently introduced would work, and it just might improve the situation as well as make a few farmers around the world happy. Americans are not all that kind.

Fed Cattle Uneven, Mostly Steady, Firm, Hogs Lower Monday

At the central markets on Monday, live hogs and bellies were mostly steady to a list straggled, however, there was a few exceptions. Live hogs were generally a lower price, as reported at St. Louis and St. Joseph with weaker prices at Portia. Monday's cattle were again a factor in the decline and the lower end of the fat cut. Quotes usually represented varying degrees of mud. The day receipts go nearer normal and were 3,400 above last Monday's storm tossed situation. Slaughter cows were sharply lower, most marks in this report and but were largely steady. Monday's hogs were 124,000 and 124,000, 5,000 under a week ago but 29,000 ahead of last year. Carcass beef opened about steady in Monday's limited trading, following the weakness reported late last week.

Hog prices were lower by 50¢ to $1.00 or 32¢ off of some markets. Monday's hog supplies were larger than a week ago by about 8,500. Monday's estimate of hog kill was 280,000 or 28,000 above the week ago and 54,000 above the same day last year. Price ironore, price choice and prima steers and helters of the mixed good and choice grades good to choice Holstein steers and U-1 hogs scaling 200-270 or 280 lbs included:

OMAHA fed steers fully steers helters firm to 25¢ higher. Steers $68.50 to $62.55 and $50 to $60.25. Holsteins $52 to $58.50. Helters $58.50 to $61.50 to $56.50. Hogs $1 to $1.25 lower

January Placements at 1.51 Million Up 4% From Last Year, Marketings Gained 8% Last Month, 8.05 Million on Feed

Cattle and calves fed February 1 to slaughter market in the seven states preparing monthly estimates totaled 8.05 million head, up 14% from a year ago and 7% from February 1981, according to the U.S. Crop Reporting Board. Inadequate weather in the high plains reportedly slowed weight gains and caused some higher than normal Markings of led cattle during January totaled 1.64 million, up 8% from last 1982 and 1091.

Incements of cattle and calves as fed during January totaled 1.54 million, 4% more than in the seven states last year and 18% greater than January 1981. Net placements of 1.28 million are about the same as last year but 18% above 1981.

At the scene and despite the effort to maintain marketings at reasonably high levels one of the big factors in losses has been the loss of tonnage of beef.

Commodities Comment Week Ending February 11, 1983

An explosion is the only way to describe this week's price action for all markets. After early week softness, prices for stocks, grains, metals, and livestock moved sharply higher on news of another cut in the discount rate. Paul Volcker, Chairman of the Federal Reserve, stated early Wednesday morning that lower interest rates were coming in the months ahead. That was all the news the bulls needed and a sharp two day rally ensued. Heavy volume was experienced in all markets from grains to metals on that hot of news.

For information contact the American Chianina Association, Box 890, Plette City, MO 64079, 816/481-2808 or the sale manager, Stanley E. Stout Auction Service, Inc., Rt. 1, Box 129-A, Linwood, Kansas 68062, 913/723-8281.

On the Chicago Board of Trade, grains were quite weak until midweek when they too got caught up in the "bullish" fever in regards to another actually touched limit up at one time. Thursday, I can't remember the last time I've seen corn go limit up it was so impressive. For the week, corn closed up 6 1/2 cents, beans up 2 1/2 cents, and wheat down 1 1/4 cents. At this writing March corn closed at $2.74, March soy beans $5.96, and March wheat $3.42. It totally lost as to price direction of grains. Call me if you have a good idea.

On the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, the cattle market continues to exert its leadership in the meat complex. The feeder cattle market looks great and a move into the low to mid 70's is near. Hogs and pork bellies were much lower earlier in the week only to find support with most other markets on Thursday and Friday. The cattle market looks great and the pork complex very tight. I still like the long side of all the meat. Again, try not to buy strength. Wait for a pullback then wade in. At this writing March bellies closed at $79.47, April hogs $54.20, April live cattle $63.25 and April feeders $58.70.

The metal complex and financials have me totally confused. I still feel the metal market is dead and close to a sizeable break. These particular markets are being pushed around by conflicting fundamentals. On one hand the large Federal deficit and higher interest rates are extremely bearish. On the other hand, the psychology is very very bullish... trying to stop rising metal prices is akin to stopping a freight train. I'm not long term negative towards precious metals and the financial futures but cautious trading should be observed. Watch interest rates and the direction of the U.S. dollar for clues to price direction. At this writing April silver closed at $14.84, April gold $510.00, March Bonds $74.04 and March T Bills $91.91.

If you would like further information on hedging or speculating in the futures market, please contact Jerry F. Welch at (814) 721-9200. Prudential-Bache Securities, 281 S. Bemis St. Suite 1400, St. Louis, MO 63106.

No. Texas Cattleman's Roundup February 22

Beef, livestock product displays, deer prizes, the National Livestock and Meat Board, Texas Cattle Feeders and the 1983 Market Outlook will be featured at the North Texas Cattleman's Roundup, February 22, at Bowie, Texas.

Beginning at 6:00 p.m. at the Texas National Guard Armory the program will begin with the "Grazing Hour" featuring beef and cheese hors d'oeuvres prepared to suit most tastes. During this time, cattlemen will be able to visit product exhibits and register for the more than $400.00 worth of deer prizes to be given away. Beef cooking demonstrations and recipes will be conducted and distributed during the "Grazing Hour."

The National Livestock and Meat Board of the Beef Industry Council and how it relates to beef production, research and education will be represented by its chairman, Hilar G. Moore. The Texas Cattle Feeders with "Feeding Cattle in Texas" will follow with "The 1983 Beef Market Outlook" by Dr. Ed Uvacek the final part of the program.

The Roundup is sponsored by the Montague County Extension Livestock Committee in cooperation with all the livestock related organizations in Montague County. All interested cattlemen and their families are invited and encouraged to attend.

Healey Bros. Flying L Hereford Sale at Davis, Okla., Mar. 7

Davis, Okla. — Dozens of frame 5 and 6 Herefords and even a few frame 7's make up the featured part of the Healey Brothers annual Hereford production sale at their ranch at Davis, Oklahoma on Monday, March 7th.

Burke and Skip Healey, owners of Healey Brothers Flying L Ranch, are celebrating their 33rd year in the purebred Hereford business with this year's sale. Their '83 offering will feature full possession Herefords in two of their herd sires who stand 60" at the hip. They are also selling full possession interests in four of their other herd sires as well as 32 yearling prospects.

This year 21 yearling heifers will be featured in the female portion of their offering which is annually one of the best Hereford female sales in the nation. Fifteen producing cows from the herd will also be offered for the ninth consecutive year. The Healeys roll 20% of their producing cow herd each year.

Gulf Coast Beefmaster Bulls Average $1581

Sixty-nine lots of Beefmaster bulls sold in the Gulf Coast Area Bull Sale, Feb. 5 to 6 at Warton, TX, for $109,100 to set an average of $1581.

The top selling bull was a March 1981 consignment of Nasser Beefmaster, El Campo, that sold to Doyle Smith also of El Campo for $3100. The two-year-old he averaged 4.72 lbs. per day on a 109 day test prior to the sale.

Dorothy Beefmasters of El Campo sold the next top seller, a Jan. 1981 calf, that went to Jack Paine, El Campo for $2800. Schroeder Beefmasters, Bellville, took home the third top bull, another Nasser consignment for $2500.

Reyes & Mihalaki managed the sale and Ruben Reyes was the auctioneer.

Bill Aimed at Horse Thieves

Austin — Senator Ted Lyon, D-Rockwall, says that the number of horses stolen in Texas has been on the rise for the past few years and that he has introduced legislation that will help solve the problem.

"One of the reasons we've had so many horses stolen recently is because of the growing demand for horse meat overseas and in the United States," Lyon said.

There are currently four processing plants in Texas that slaughter horses. "The processors slaughter the horses upon receipt, dispose of the remains immediately and then ship the meat to markets throughout the world," Lyon said.

Presently, there are no inspectors at the slaughter plants to check for stolen horses. Subsequently, a horse can be stolen during the night and then sold for slaughter the next morning.

"With such a quick operation the horse owner has virtually no chance of recovering the animal alive," Lyon said. "It is possible that a registered animal worth several thousand dollars might end up as processed meat."

An unsuccessful bill was introduced in the last session of the legislature that would have provided for a 72-hour holding period at the slaughter plant. This would allow time for law enforcement officers and horse owners to inspect the animals.

The slaughterers argued that they did not have the space available to hold the horses for that period of time.

"The Horse Protection Act that I have introduced calls for the Texas Animal Health Commission to authorize the Southwest Cattle Raisers Association to station uniformed inspectors at the four slaughterhouses for the purpose of inspecting all horses to be slaughtered," Lyon said.

The inspectors will collect a small fee from the deliverer of the horse and will primarily be concerned with identifying stolen animals.

They will also keep detailed records of descriptions of the horses, identification of the person from whom the horse was acquired and the license number of the vehicle which delivered the horse for slaughter.

This information will then be given on the Southwest Cattle Raisers Association's state-wide computer work for easy reference.

"Any horse that the agents suspect might have been stolen can be held 72 hours for further investigation," Lyon continued. "The Horse Protection Act should lead to a significant decrease in the frequency of this kind and to the prosecution of more thieves."

The United States has about one-fourth of the world's estimate recoverable coal reserves.

A "little ear" on feeder calves has become an important marketing factor in recent years.

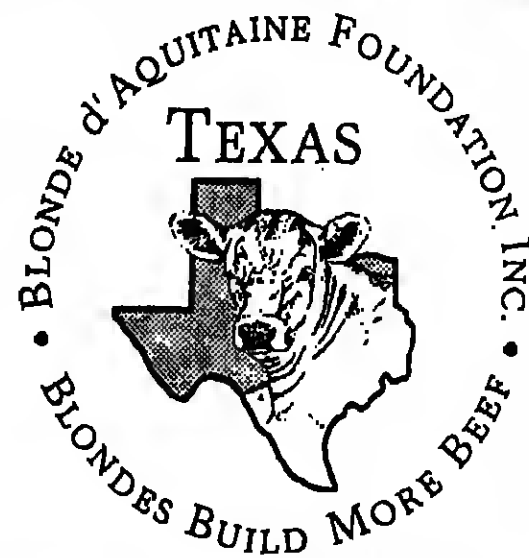

Some feeders are demanding that their order buyers select calves with some Brahman in their genetic make-up.

We think one of the best tools available to put a "little ear" on your feeder calves is to turn out a Beefmaster bull.

Contact the N.B.A. for a list of breeders who have breeding age Beefmaster bulls for sale.

The Harry L. English Brahman herd of Lufkin, TX is based on over 30 years of constructive Red Brahman breeding. It's one of the founding Red Brahman herds of east Texas. Mr. English developed this prestigious herd basically on Cherokee breeding. He purchased several groups of top females from the late C. E. Yorkum, owner of the Cherokee Ranch. He infused top Clifford, Garcia, McKellar, Doggett and H. K. bloodlines through the years. The English herd is one of the highly respected well known herds, both nationally and internationally. The individuals that make up the herd represent the most sought after bloodlines in the Brahman industry today. Any Red Brahman that carries the Harry L. English brand carries a symbol of excellence recognized by all Red Brahman breeders.

Cattle and Equipment can be inspected at the East Texas Livestock Auction at Crockett, TX on Friday and Saturday, February 25 and 26.

The Ultimate in Hunting Stands Introduced by Houston Firm

Houston, Texas - The Ultimate in Hunting Stands is now available for the hunters and hunters who want absolutely the finest, most productive and comfortable stand on the market today. The stand, developed by W. A. Redding, Owner of Houston Blow Pipe and Steel Plate Works, is the result of a bitter experience of suffering from cold and rain while hunting at his Bandera County ranch in 1963. After this painful experience, Redding designed, manufactured and installed five of the first version of this stand on the ranch. The stand has been so productive and comfortable for family and friends that the improved and latest design is on the market for the Hunter and Rancher who want the best.

The stand is all weather proof-heavy gauge steel construction, equipped with all the comforts of home. Durable stainless steel Balljoint Propane Heaters, Five one-way mirrors, and

New Miniature Watering Trough Float

Miniature Float-Activated Controller provides simple, reliable control of water level in animal watering troughs. The little controller consists of a hollow copper ball float which floats on top of the water and senses the level, a solid brass flow control valve, and a solid brass lever arm connecting the ball float with the valve. Direct mechanical linkage assures positive control at animal watering levels.

The miniature float-activated controller is easy to install. No electrical wiring is required. Valve inlet is 1/8-inch NPT thread, outlet 1/4-inch brass tube. Maximum flow capacity is 6 gallons per minute at 50 psi. Fabricated by American workmen from the finest materials for maximum service life and trouble-free service. Performance and quality unconditionally guaranteed. Order direct from the manufacturer, Contact Garden Machine Company, M1, Ephraim, NJ 08069.

Kaufman, Texas - The latest labor-saving tool for farm and ranch use has been announced by Travis O. Harkness, founder and president of Harkness Hayporter Company.

The new versatile "FARMLIFT" is a combination Fork Lift and a high lift Hay Spear 3 pt. tractor attachment. Commercial fork lifts have been in use a long time, but due to the high cost and limited terrain capability of the small tires for farm and ranch use, they are not practical. The new "FARMLIFT" costs a fraction of the commercial lift, and being mounted on a tractor, it has all terrain capabilities. You will be surprised to see the benefits this 3 pt. attachment will provide for you at a fraction of the cost of a fork lift. Fits all category I and II tractors. Requires 2 spool external hydraulic connections and controls. The "FARMLIFT" like other Harkness Innovative products is sold, serviced and guaranteed factory

Cattle and Antelope May Share Costly Disease

Fort Collins - Researchers in Colorado and Wyoming are studying antelope to see whether the animals get and transmit to cattle a disease that causes infertility in cattle.

"When wildlife and domestic ruminants share the same habitat, they may be swapping a disease back and forth," said Dr. Michael T. Collins, Colorado State University microbiologist. Collins is part of a multi-agency team that has proved that antelope acquire and keep the specific organism that causes leptospirosis in cattle.

The disease, common to cattle and costly to the livestock industry, recently has shown up in some wild antelope in Colorado and Wyoming, Collins said. It apparently is transmitted through contaminated water supplies.

Collins, Colorado Division of Wildlife researcher William J. Adrian and Dr. Tom Thorne of Wyoming Game and Fish Department are studying how the disease progresses in antelope. The National Animal Disease Center in Ames, Iowa, is helping with the analysis.

Antelope fawns, raised from birth at the Wyoming division's Sybille facility north of Laramie, were infected with the disease at age 3 months last August. For the past six months, Thorne and his assistants have drawn blood and urine samples, which were analyzed mostly by CSU microbiologists.

Research, so far has shown that antelope could transmit the disease to cattle, said Thorne, a wildlife research

Roseburgers knew that cattle transmit leptospirosis through their urine, either by direct contact or by contaminating shallow, alkaline water sources where the disease-causing organism can survive and be picked up by other animals.

There is no proof that antelope transmit the disease to cattle. However, research suggests that the disease organism survives in antelope urine, so antelope are a potential source of the disease, Thorne said. "The incidence is so much higher in cattle that we are sure cattle are the original source. Cattle brought the disease in."

Thorne said leptospirosis progresses differently in antelope than it does in cattle. While many cattle lost their appetite and appear sick, antelope have shown no clinical symptoms of the disease.

This spring, the team will give the disease to 10 pregnant antelope does to see if it causes them to abort, as it does cattle.

The project began in 1980 when Colorado wildlife researcher William Adrain observed the disease in antelope through a system the Colorado division developed to monitor diseases in game animals.

Each year licensed hunters receive blood sample collection kits in the mail. They are asked to obtain a blood sample at the time of their kill and to mail it to the state's Federal Cooperative Brucella Laboratory.

Adrian approached Collins for help after his personnel saw positive test results in antelope blood samples, Collins said.

Collins, Adrian, epidemiologist Dr. John S. Relf and graduate student Theresa Ann Callagosa studied cattle and antelope blood samples. Tests showed that the two species get the same disease.

To confirm the results, they reproduced the disease in tame antelope housed at the Wyoming Wildlife Department's research facility.

"You have to work with tame antelope because wild antelope never settle down and adapt to captivity," Collins explained. Because stress is a contributing factor to most diseases, "the stress factor would complicate this research."

Knowing that the two species can share the disease will help wildlife managers and cattle producers, Thorne said. "For instance, if managers want to transplant antelope to an area and these antelope test positive for leptospirosis, the managers probably would not

First Federal Approval For Permethrin for Livestock Pest Control

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has granted federal approval of Atraban Insecticide Ear Tags for control of certain flies and ticks on cattle, including lactating dairy cattle.

The Atraban Ear Tag registration represents the first EPA approval for the use of permethrin (the active insecticide ingredient in Atraban Ear Tags) for direct application to livestock.

Permethrin (the active ingredient in Atraban Ear Tags) is a highly active residual insecticide with low mammalian toxicity. Further, it possesses the properties for which natural pyrethrin is well known: a wide spectrum of insecticidal activity and non-persistence in the environment.

The Atraban Insecticide Ear Tag is an example of the significance of the that accompanies round hay baling. Tucker Wheels help you form heavier bales with square ends and less field waste.

The Tucker Wheels are easy to install. They are entirely bolt-on, require no welding, cutting or drilling. The product has a money back guarantee if you are not completely satisfied.

For further information, write or call The Darrell A. McNutt Engineering Company, Highway 70 East, Soper, Oklahoma 74789.

Make Better Round Bales With Damesco Tucker Wheels

It is now possible for most makes of round balers to be equipped with Tucker Wheels. The 1983 models are adjustable in width as well as wheel tilt angle to compensate for variable hay and field conditions.

These wheels increase pickup width by two feet or more and tuck in the uneven and often windblown edges of the windrows. The increased width will also allow you to rake two normal size windrows side by side thus eliminating the zigzag driving and neck twisting

Automatic Announces Roller Mill Conversion Kits

Conversion kits are now available from Automatic to replace hammermills with roller mills on just existing mill mixers. The conversion kit is currently available for International Harvester, Massey Harris, New Holland, Gehl and Arts-way. Kits for other mill mixers will be marketed as engineering details are completed according to any Harvester, Director of Marketing for the Pioneer firm.

The replacement mill can either be a grain roller mill with capacity to 1000 bu./hr. or an ensilage roller mill with capacity to 450 bu./hr. The conversion kit can also handle small grains and milo with a simple adjustment.

Further details may be had by writing the manufacturer, Automatic Equipment Mfg. Co., Ponder, Nebraska 68047.

AgriStar to Monitor Pick Sign Up

AgriStar, an electronic business information and communications service for farmers, ranchers, and agribusiness today announced plans to electronically monitor the week by week progress of farmer sign-up to the U.S.D.A.'s Payment in Kind (PIK) program.

A spokesman for AgriData Resources, Inc., the Milwaukee-based operators of AgriStar, said that weekly results would be available for electronic access by system users each morning after the close of the futures markets.

"The PIK program and the level of farmer participation in it is expected to have a major impact on farm prices and the general short term economic health of agriculture," according to David Skoloda, AgriData Editor-in-Chief.

The U.S.D.A. has placed a news blackout on sign-up statistics until March 22, well after the sign-up deadline of March 11. The AgriStar electronic survey should provide a reasonable indication of large farmer intentions regarding PIK and at least a glimpse of the likely final statistics," Skoloda said.

"The economic implications of that change are enormous. The sign-up level will be a major factor in grain markets and we want to insure that 'Farm-Futures' readers and AgriStar users are fully informed of the potential impact."

Better Business Practice Seen In Preconditioning

Las Vegas - Cattlemen should take advantage of preconditioning programs in order to become better businessmen and improve profit potentials, two industry leaders said at the National Cattlemen's Association convention.

Gordon McLean, president of the North Dakota Stockmen's Association, said the value of preconditioning has been dramatically proven on his own farm. His enthusiasm was shared by George Hall, president of the Oklahoma National Stockyards, who said higher prices are being paid for preconditioned calves. "We're now recognizing the increased value of preconditioning, and are willing to pay for it," Hall told a special forum on preconditioning sponsored by Halston Purina Company. He urged cattlemen to utilize all the technology available to them.

For his part, McLean said that calves weaned in November from the 100-cow herd on his 3,500-acre farm in Cully, N.D., actually showed growth during a time most other cattlemen would have expected weight losses. He attributed these gains to the adoption of better nutrition.

"We always did take good care of our calves. We were gentle with them at weaning, and gave them just about all

Ectiban® Insecticide Tape Available For Use

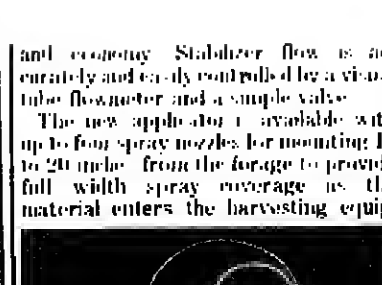

A convenient new device for summer-long fly control on cattle is now available from ICI Americas Inc. The new product, Ectiban® Insecticide Tape, attaches to existing cartages, providing summer-long control of horn and face flies on cattle.

This convenient form of fly control allows the cattle to carry their own insecticides, but is "easy on the ears." Unlike conventional insecticide cartages, there is no need to puncture the cow's ear. This eliminates danger of infection,

Introduction of the Ectiban Insecticide Tape eliminates more than three years of formulation and application research. The new patented tape incorporates an adhesive strip with two glass ampoules containing Ectiban insecticide. Cattlemen can simply wrap the Ectiban tape around an existing cartage, rupture the ampoules containing the insecticide and begin a slow-release process.

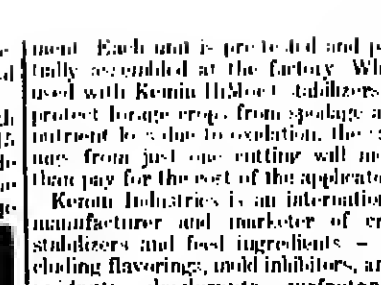

Since the Ectiban Insecticide Tape lasts through the entire fly season, there is no need for frequent gathering of cattle as there is with conventional spraying. There is also no need for periodic refilling as there is with dust bags and others. Once the tape is in place and activated, the insecticide is brushed across Another advantage of the new insecticide tape is that it allows an existing cartage to serve double duty for identification and fly control. There is no need to double tag or cut out old tags, and no danger of infection. The Ectiban Insecticide Tape needs no special application equipment.

Ectiban is a synthetic, pyrethroid, a proven ingredient in fly control. It combines the long-lasting insecticidal activity of permethrin with low toxicity to animals and humans. Ectiban does not leave harmful residues in meat or milk.

Ectiban is also available as a premix spray for livestock housing and direct application in some states under 24(c) registrations. Federal registration is expected for direct application on beef and dairy cattle, swine and poultry for the 1983 season. For more information contact U. A. Stahuber, ICI Americas Inc., Wilmington, Delaware 19817.

ment. Each unit is pre-filled and partially sealed, and is easy to use. When used with Kemlin Insecticide stabilizers to protect forage crops from spoilage and insect damage, the cost of the application is less than the cost of the insecticide.

"These explanations made me realize more fully that our home grown ration cannot compete with that these researchers were able to put into a complete feed," McLean said. It was then decided to try Preconditioning Receiving Chow, a pelleted complete commercial ration, feeding it free choice to his calves for the first three weeks after weaning.

"Because of its palatability, the calves really went after it. And because its pelleted, calves couldn't do any sorting." Results, he added, were impressive.

"We only had one calf get sick in the first seven weeks after weaning. We treated it, and the calf recovered completely," he reported. In addition, he found that in the 21 days immediately following weaning, his calves gained an average of 46 pounds at a cost of only 42.6 cents per pound of gain.

Was it worth the cost of labor involved? "My calves drew top market prices the day we sold them," he said, "and our laborers went way over the top market price that day."

Higher Prices

Seeing top dollars paid for preconditioned cattle isn't something new to George Hall. "Records on most of the 20,000 calves that go through our yards every week show that preconditioned calves come out way ahead in prices paid, and in performance," Hall reported.

"I recall one lot of preconditioned calves, for example, that was shipped some 650 miles north of Oklahoma City," he said, "and they arrived with only an average shrink of 8 percent."

Hall said he has been noting an increase both in the number of preconditioned calves going through his yards and in the demand for them. "Buyers are calling us more often to see if we have or expect to have preconditioned calves for sale," he explained. "This usually happens when a feeder specifically asks the buyer to look for preconditioned calves."

One reason feeders want these calves, he suggested, is they know they can eliminate costly treatment, since preconditioning already covers that. In addition, calves can be expected to gain more weight on fewer days of feed. With that in mind, Hall added, it's clear why feeders are willing to pay a little more for preconditioned calves, provided they have been certified.

"It's just plain good business," he concluded. "Simply, your customer - the feeder - is willing to pay you more for a superior product."

Fort Worth Junior Polled Herefords Show Winners

An enthusiastic group of junior Polled Hereford breeders traveled to Ft. Worth, Texas, for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. The 40 heifers entered in the junior Polled Hereford competition on Jan. 30 were placed by judge Jake White of Colorado Springs, CO.

Penny Farrington, Abilene, Texas, had a highly successful day as her March 1981 heifer first won the junior yearling class and then advanced to claim the grand championship honors. Wildcat Miss America 41N, sired by Gold Seal Sire Wild Cat Sundance TK, was in the limelight earlier in the season as a class winner at the 8th National Junior Polled Hereford Heifer Show.

Judge White next turned to his senior heifer calf class winner as his reserve grand champion. She was M4F Lady Glead 113, exhibited by Dawn Garrison, Blooming Grove, Texas. A daughter of Silbrk Glead 87K, "The Slick," this heifer was also a winner in the Southwestern Exposition open show where she was named the grand champion female.

Other junior exhibitors earning the first place in their respective classes were Marcus Martin, Crowley, Texas, on MB Special Vicki P8; Jason Sholly, Hillsboro, Texas, on CDS Ma Proud Bener; Derek Rodriguez, Kaufman, Texas, on COS Banner Vic 100; and Bryan Beavers, Kaufman, Texas, on CDS Miss Spider 97.

Kim and Hillary Moore, Abilene, TX, representing Bill Chaney of Abilene, purchased the top selling lot of the Beasley and Farrington Polled Hereford Sale for $25,000. The sale was Jan. 31 at Hawley, TX.

Rob Hamilton (left) of Pueblo, CO, with Tom Robb of Florence, CO, at the Beasley/Farrington Polled Hereford Sale, Jan. 31 in Hawley, TX. Robb paid $22,750 for the second top female.

Livestock prices have declined since mid-summer. Weak consumer demand forced hog prices down in September after five consecutive monthly increases, despite lower inventories and less slaughter. October hog prices at $54.00 per cwt. were off 11 percent from the August peak of $60.40 cwt. Cattle and calf prices declined as a result of higher marketing.

One of the major thoughts of the convention was the challenge of accumulating performance status. This includes not only weight per day of age, winning weights and birth weights, but many others also. Maternal traits such as milking ability and ease of calving which is also a paternal trait, must be compiled. Fertility, fleshing ability and many others will continue to be important to the commercial cowman and we must be sensitive to their needs. One major step has now been taken with the first ever Brangus Performance Tested Bull Sale held February 14. The results of those bulls in this sale was very promising. The bulls that were on a ration designed for a gain of 2.5 pounds per day averaged well over this amount. This first over sale averaged $1448 which indicates that it was very well received by the commercial men. The board of directors of the Texas Brangus Breeders Association challenges all of you to be very conscious of performance in the coming years. If you have any questions or we can be of any help in any way please contact me, Trey Kirkpatrick - 713/846-5733.

Brangus News

by Trey Kirkpatrick - Executive Secretary

Texas Brangus News. Challenge of Challenges, this was the theme of the 26th annual TBBA convention in San Antonio. We have met and overcome many challenges to assume our present position in the beef cattle industry. The early challenges were ones of a breed trying to assert itself into a leadership role among the commercial cowmen. To a very large degree, this has been accomplished, and different challenges lay ahead that are just as important.

One of the group classes, the winners were: two females, Flying V Ranch; and got of sire, Honilo Creek Ranch. BL Champ 300/2, owned by B. L. Littleton, Texas. He was the reserve champion Brangus bull of the 1983 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. BVR Titan, owned by Brazos Valley Ranch, Simonton, TX, was the reserve champion Brangus bull of the 1983 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. The senior champion was DMA Champ 588, owned by Warren Ranch, Orapavito, TX, and the reserve senior was Brinks General 880M, from Flying V Ranch, Henderson, TX. Junior champion bull was an entry of Willow Springs Ranch, Sillerton Ranch, and Billy Harry, Brinks Hopi 598K. And the reserve junior champion was from Prairie View Ranch, D'Hanis, TX, PO Tiana 74N2. Judge Riordan also chose the call champion in the female division for his grand champion. She was an entry of Plum Creek Ranch, Buffalo, TX, Ma PLR Tiny 198F. Reserve champion female, Miss PC Tiny, was also the

Brangus Bulls—The Budget Balancers

In the 1980's the right bull can make the difference between a losing year and a healthy profit. Brangus bulls can add as much as 100 lbs. per calf at weaning, and that means more dollars at sale time. In addition, Brangus sired calves suit today's trend toward leaner beef and changing grade standards. Their ability to reach an acceptable grade in less time and yield a high percent of lean to fat gives them strong demand with feeders. For the 80's, put Brangus bulls in your budget, and tip the balance in favor of profit.

Performance Tested Brangus Bulls Go for $1445

The first performance tested Brangus bull sale was held at the Livestock Performance Center on February 14, 1983. A very good set of young, useful bulls were performance tested, and along with performance information, a panel of four judges consisting of Randy Ward of McAlester, OK, Gary Bruns of Ft. Stockton, TX, J. C. Eckert of Mason and Dan Kinsel of Cotulla used visual appraisal to make their placements.

The bulls were broken down into two classes: bulls born in 1982 and bulls born in 1981, with 101 bulls grossing $145,915 to average $1445.

Gibbel Brangus of Midland had the champion pen of 1982 bulls, and Willow Springs Ranch of Burton consigned the champion pen in the 1981 division. The Willow Springs champion pen also had the top gaining bull. This was also the top gaining pen, and was picked the overall grand champion pen of bulls.

Topping the sale at $14,600 was an October 1981 son of Tiny and out of an Anna daughter. He was bought by Dr. Joe Berry, San Antonio. He was consigned by Vineyard Cattle Co. of Wharton and had a weight per day of age of 2.92.

Kevin Junghans of Midland, OK gave $10,000 for a 650 son out of a Mastic daughter. This bull was a December 1981 bull with a weight per day of age of 2.57. He was consigned by Blocker Brangus of Cat Springs.

The third high selling bull of the entire sale, consigned by Willow Springs

Ranch was a Signal son with a weight per day of age of 2.93. He brought $5000 going to J. R. Williams, Barksdale, TX. Willow Springs Ranch also consigned a Titan son that brought $3000 going to Jess Young of Corsicana.

He had a weight per day of age of 2.93. Volume buyer was Tracy Thompson, Plainville, KS. Sale manager was Pierce Sales Company and auctioneers were Bert Rulen Reyes.

SANTA GERTRUDIS NEWS

Santa Circuit

By BUDDY SMITH

Santa Gertrudis Ski Expo '83 was a rip-roaring success. Those of you who missed it this year — get ready for '84!

Not only was the "Ex Officio Breed Improvement Committee" in session on the slopes, but fun was had by all. The only thing that got hauled was a few prizes when we all took a tumble in the snow. "Ol Co Ahead Anderson" (whose name later was changed to "twelve hour chicken pox Anderson") should be running some pictures in the Santa Gertrudis Journal on the Ski Expo. SANTA GERTRUDIS

BREED FOR PROFIT

High-gaining bulls produce high-gaining offspring. Feed lot statistics clearly show that Santa Gertrudis are unrivaled converters of feed to gain. Therefore by using purebred Santa Gertrudis bulls in a crossbreeding program, there is opportunity for more profit. At Nina Bar Ranch we always have a good supply of quality bulls for the commercial operator. Add a Nina bar bull to your herd for increased profit potential.

For quality you can depend on, be sure to attend the Cowman's Intagility Sale, May 2, 1983, at Nina Bar Ranch, Hempstead, Texas.

Premier Association Cow-Calf Futurity & Sale Averages $2138

The Premier Santa Gertrudis Association held its first cow-calf futurity and sale in connection with the Fort Worth Livestock Show, on February 3, 1983 at the Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth.

Judges for the pen cattle futurity were Curtis Douthett of Douthett Hereford Ranches, Harrison, Texas; Ted Kolly of Flying A Polled Hereford Ranches, Rosser, Texas; and Jim Williams, V8 Brahmas Ranches, Hungerford, Texas.

First place winner in the Futurity was a six-year-old cow #14116, consigned by Euel and Fannie Hammett of Odessa, Texas. The cow had a polled heifer calf at side, calving in March 1982; and a bull calf at side, calving in January of this year. Both calves were sired by the Hammett's polled Patrick Lambert bull 439. The Hammett's consignment sold to Mayfair Ranches, Brenham, Texas for $3800. The prize money for first place was $3800.

Capturing second place in the judging and a cash prize of $1,000 was the consignment offered by Hodge Properties of Dallas, Texas. The entry consisted of their female 720 calving on 4-25-77. Selling at her side was her O-
